New York.

Dear Sir:

I am afraid that there is nothing very special in my family history that would be worth recording in a book for use by the general public. I come from Scotch and Loyalist stock, most of it like hundreds of others in this Dominion, who have simply done their daily work without attracting any special public attention. I have no family arms, and anything that has been accomplished by me has been done in ordinary routine of daily duty unmarked by any special events.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

Dear Sir

I thank you for your kind note of the 23 ult.

I can understand that you can see no necessity in contributing to the work if the artist's work is the artist's. For that is your personal record. For that is already published. Excellent work. Personal record is not the chief purpose of the book. I prefer to have that further reduced to a minimum if it is in print elsewhere.

What I am most anxious to record is family notes of interest to the family concerning parents, grandparents & the earlier lineage where known - You are of H.E.L. descent & some facts of family interest must be extant. Such will be of great interest to your next kin in the ensuing generation. The Armorial features is merely incidental.

Many families of prominence have no knowledge of family arms. Where they are known simply wish to record them.

I hope that the University Library will support me in the intent of ordering a copy; Queens, McGill, & Laval have taken copies.

Sincerely yours

George Todd

P.S. I should add that the register of Dubouche's children is another feature of my work not found elsewhere.

Dear Sir:

I have sent your letter to our Librarian asking him whether he could not subscribe to your family history, and he writes to me that he thinks a copy should be placed in the City Library, but that he is unable to recommend a copy for the University Library. We are short of funds and have used up all our available resources.

Yours sincerely,

President.
